The Mib Browser is a free utility that provides basic functions for dealing with the SNMP Mib files. It is based on the NtrMet.Com library and can access MIBs from any SNMP Agent. It is based on Microsoft's new Windows Presentation Foundation (Wpf), and uses the NtrMet.Com library. The Mib Browser accepts three configuration files: a local file with the Mibs (MIBs), a file with OIDs which will be used to retrieve MIBs (MIDs), and a file with information about OIDs (MOIDs) for which the MIBs will be retrieved. OIDs and MOIDs are separate files as sometimes you need to know the type of MIB to retrieve the correct MIB. The Mib Browser can retrieve MIBs for one or more OIDs and/or for one or more MOIDs. The MIB file must be organised in the same way and use the same syntax as the OIDs and MOIDs. You can also specify the SNMP version used to retrieve the MIBs. This is a useful

Distal-less homeobox (Dlx) genes encode a family of structurally related, evolutionarily conserved transcription factors that are involved in patterning events during vertebrate embryogenesis. In this study, we examine the expression pattern of the mouse Dlx2, Dlx5, Dlx6 and Dlx3 genes at the mRNA and protein levels in adult tissues. Dlx2, Dlx5 and Dlx6, but not Dlx3, are expressed in the endocrine pancreas. Double-label in situ hybridization with radiolabeled riboprobes and immunohistochemistry studies in the pancreas show that Dlx2, Dlx5 and Dlx6 mRNA and protein are detectable in neuroendocrine cells. Labeling is also observed for Dlx2 and Dlx5 in some endocrine cells of the exocrine pancreas, suggesting the presence of a progenitor population among endocrine cells with an expression profile of Dlx2 and Dlx5. Dlx5 and Dlx6 are expressed in some chorionic epithelia at embryonic day 8.5 and in the placenta at both embryonic day 10.5 and 11.5. Dlx2 is also detectable in the placenta at embryonic day 11.5. We show by in situ hybridization in neural tube, somite and limb that Dlx2, Dlx5, and Dlx6 are expressed at different stages of limb development. We
